CLINTON – Clinton Savings Bank has a new assistant vice president, branch manager of its West Boylston Branch.

Robert Hicks Jr. will join Clinton Savings Bank where he will be responsible for overseeing the daily operations of the West Boylston office and coaching, guiding and developing team members.

Senior Vice President of Branch Administration Andrea Santiago said that Clinton Savings Bank was excited to welcome Hicks.

“I am confident that with his management skills and drive for customer acquisition, as well as his involvement in the community, he will be a valuable addition to the bank’s team,” said Santiago.

Hicks has an Associate of Science degree in business from Quinsigamond Community College.

Hicks has over three decades of banking experience. He recently served as the vice president, customer experience manager at M&T Bank.

Clinton Savings Bank was established in 1851 and is one of the oldest mutual community banks in the commonwealth. It offers business and consumer banking through their soon-to-be seven full-service branches in Berlin, Bolton, Boylston, Clinton, Sterling, West Boylston and Shrewsbury.

The Shrewsbury branch is slated to open this March in Edgemere Crossing at Flint Pond.
