The current statement for readmission is as follows:

Students who have previously attended QCC and have not attended the College for two consecutive semesters, either due to withdrawal or academic failure, must apply to be readmitted. Students must submit a new application.

Upon academic failure, or withdrawing from a health or high demand program, students are required to meet with ther Program Coordinator to establish guidelines for readmission. Students will be considered only once for readmission to all health programs. Specific steps for readmission can be obtained in the QCC Admissions Office or from the appropriate academic department.

For example, if a student was accepted into CJ FA19 and did not enroll FA19 or SP20 they would lose their major. If in FA20 they decided they want to enroll in CJ they would fill out an abbreviated form and they could be accepted into CJ for the catalog year 2020This policy doesn't currently apply to healthcare or "highly competitive" programs.

This policy is found in QCC's academic catalog, page 15:
